Overview

Highlighter tool for PDF and websites. Free and easy to use. YouTube summary and Kindle highlights importer are also available.

Easily highlight PDF and websites, save it for later, and share it with everyone.

Glasp is a free Chrome Extension that lets you quickly highlight websites and PDF files with colored highlighting options, which are then automatically curated to your Glasp homepage. These highlights can then be tagged, searched for, linked to, and shared on a variety of other platforms, including Twitter, Teams, and Slack. YouTube, web article, and PDF summarization functions are powered by AI models such as ChatG (OpenAI) and Claude (Anthropic).

You can see all the highlights and notes in the sidebar on the web and PDF, and clicking each highlight takes you to the highlighted place in the web page or inside the PDF. Also, you can tag the web page and PDF and see what other people highlighted in the website or PDF from the sidebar. With one click, the content you've collected appears across all your devices!

Thank you for the review, sarath!

So glad to hear that! Let us know if you have any questions :)

I found another extension that does the same thing and doesn't require registration, so I don't recommend it.
